

AVIATON.MET.HU

TERMS OF USE

The aim of the aviation.met.hu is to provide aviation meteorological information only for general aviation purposes for flights originating within the Hungary.

The data and information of the aviation.met.hu are made available for personal use only, i.e. they should not be passed on to other people, reproduced in any way or use for commercial purposes. The user of the aviation.met.hu shall be private person whom at least 16 years old.

The user understands and accepts that the aviation meteorological information and data on the aviation.met.hu may only be used by hungarian pilots for flights originating outside of Hungary with the permission of the local meteorological authority.

The users understand and accept – as defined in Annex 3 of the ICAO Chicago Convention of 1944 – that, owing to the variability of meteorological elements in space and time, to limitations of forecasting techniques and to limitations caused by the definitions of some of the elements, the specific value of any of the elements given in a forecast shall be understood by the recipient to be the most probable value which the element is likely to assume during the period of the forecast. Similarly, when the time of occurrence or change of an element is given in a forecast, this time shall be understood to be the most probable time.

The user of the aviation.met.hu understands and accepts the Terms of Use and by accepting the conditions of use the user declares that she or he is aware of and understands the interpretation guides of the Low-level significant weather chart and Regional area forecast for VFR flights.

In the case of violation of the Terms of Use or providing incorrect information at the registration form, the user will be banned for a year.

The Hungarian Meteorological Service shall have the right to change or modify the Terms of Use and Privacy Policy at any time.